Column 99

By Frank M. Luecke

Modern-day politicians often can benefit from the exploits and experiences of pre-1900 politicos like Jim Hogg, the rotund Texas political figure of the late 1800 s.

John Henderson, Cameron businessman tells this story about an incident that happened in Cameron during the Hogg-Clark gubnatorial race of 1892. The scene was the bandstand in the city park on US 77 east.

There was a big parade that day, Henderson said, and a large crowd gathered in the park to hear Hogg and Clark debate the big issue of the campaign -- formation of a Texas Railroad Commission.

Hogg, an immense man of perhaps 300-400 pounds in weight, arose to speak.

From high up in a tree came a loud "Soo-wee, soo-wee, soo-wee," in the manner of calling hogs. Apparently the man in the tree was for Clark.

But Hogg began his speech without concern.

In fact he made political capital out of the distraction with these words: "When all the possums, coons and skunks are done with their part of the program, I will proceed."

99 — 99 — 99

It actually happened in Cameron.

That kind of historical anecdote brings back some of the color of an earlier Cameron. We hope we can get more in Column 99.

MORE ON MONEY—We can't seem to let well enough alone on the favorite topic of discussion -- money. A regular contributor presented us with this gem Monday. We quote:

"Money is so tight it is becoming almost as hard to get into debt as it is to get out of it."

99 — 99 — 99

We don't intend to plug any particular ad in The Herald, but we have one this week that brought forth a note too good not to repeat.

Someone took one look at the huge insect pictured in this ad and labeled it "the Purple People Eater." For the not-too-hep, like me, that's the title of a current Rock 'n Roll number that disk jockies are wearing out.

Anyhow, the full title is something like "One Eyed, One Horned, Pigeon Toed, Underclothed Purple People Eater." I've never seen one. Maybe it looks like that bug.

Milam Guard Unit To Leave For Camp

Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion, Milam County's National Guard unit, was making final preparations to attend its annual two weeks of summer camp along with other units of the 49th Armored Division, it was reported today.

The 15 days of summer field training will be held from June 29th to July 13th at North Fort Hood.

Training schedules call for Battery C to leave the Cameron Armory early Sunday morning and make the trip to the base camp at North Fort Hood in their own vehicles.

Training for the first week of the encampment will include classes in communications, maintenance of equipment and map reading, and firing of carbines, machine-guns, rocket launchers and grenades.

Mounted Parade

Highlight of the week will be a huge mounted parade of the 49th Armored Division when its 8,000 officers and men and 1,000 tanks, trucks and jeeps will pass in review for Gov. Price Daniel on Saturday morning.

Most of the second week will be spent by the Guardsmen on the AAA ranges firing 40 mm and 50-cal. machine guns. They will return to Cameron Sunday, July 13th.

Only Texan Honored

Roy Wright Wins Citation

Roy M. Wright, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, Cameron, has gained national recognition in the Incentive Awards Program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Wright was given the award for suggesting that a new element entitled "Economy of Operations" be added to the standards of performance of all Farmers Home Administration employees occupying supervisory positions in the field.

The adopted suggestion will help call attention to the need for economy in operations.

The award consisted of $50 and a certificate of appreciation issued by the USDA.

Gets Citation

The award citation reads: "As a result of Mr. Wright's suggestion, Standards of Performance of FHA employees occupying supervisory and technical positions include, as appropriate, an element or item covering economy of operations.

"While the idea of economy has been expected of all employees, and the subject has been brought to their attention on occasions, it has never been spelled out as one of the duties expected of the position or one on which the employees would be graded."

Wright was the only Texan with an adopted suggestion for the past year.

It is estimated that the suggestion will save the government several thousand dollars annually since it places a premium on economical operations.

Wright is a graduate of Texas A&M College with a BS degree in Agriculture and has been employed with the USDA for 18 years. During this time he has served with the old AAA, SCS, Extension Service and Farmers Home Administration.

Supervisor Since 1942

He has been county supervisor of Milam County since January, 1942, with three and one-half years in the U. S. Air Force during World War II. He is presently a major in the Air Force Reserve.

When Wright reported to Milam County as county supervisor there were five full-time employees in the office with an annual business of less than $75,000.

In 1957 Burleson County was also placed under his supervision. The office now has an annual business of $400,000. Now he and a county office manager handle the entire job.

He is active in community affairs. He is presently chairman of deacons of First Baptist Church in Cameron and teaches a young men's Bible class. He presently serves as flight commander of the local Air Force Reserve Flight and has been active in Knights of Pythias lodge work. He also is chairman of the Poultry Committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

$800,000 Total Payments Due By End Of Year

A total of $271,000 has been paid out to Milam County cotton growers thus far in the soil bank program with a total of about $800,000 in allotments scheduled for payment by the end of the year.

Officials at the Milam Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office said Wednesday that 832 growers have put 22,479 acres in the soil bank for the 1958-59 crop year.

Agriculture observers have indicated that the cotton soil bank program will probably be dropped after this year.

Big Maize Crop Seen

A bumper crop in maize has been predicted for Milam County and all of Central Texas since cotton acreage restrictions have developed in the past two years.

ASC figures show that about one-third of the available cotton acreage is in the soil bank this year.

Officials said that no county farmers have allotments in any other crops open to soil bank participation -- wheat, corn or rice.

About 8,300 acres were placed in the soil bank in 1957, figures released by ASC Manager A. E. Sanders showed.

In February a temporary cutoff was necessary when available funds for the county soil bank were depleted. About $200,000 is budgeted for allotments in the new county budget effective July 1, officials noted.

Payments are ranging from $12 to about $50, ASC officials said, with the average payment being about $35 per acre.

Payments To 320 Farms

Payments thus far have gone to cotton growers on 320 county farms.

County Agent J. D. Moore said that the county small grain crop was nearly completed.

Recent rains have boosted growth of corn, maize and other feed crops.

He said the cotton crop is in excellent shape with older cotton blooming. Some insect damage was reported.

ASC officials noted there are about 1,600 cotton farms in Milam County.

Coffield Firm Enters Low Bid On Armory

Coffield Construction Co., Rockdale, was low bidder on the proposed National Guard Armory in Cameron with a bid of $91,104 when bids from six companies were opened in Austin.

Construction was scheduled to begin 30 days after opening of bids, officials said.

A federal grant of $87,750 assured construction of the armory in Cameron during 1958.

Additional funds to iover total cost apparently would be forthcoming from other sources.

The federal grant was approved by the National Guard Bureau.

Other bidders on the armory construction job were: Cooper Construction Co., Waco; B-J Construction Co., Austin; Graham Construction Co., Cameron; McLeod Construction Co., Temple; and Allan & Walton, Denison.

Construction of the 108 by 116 foot structure will complete building plans for armory that began several years ago.

Chamber and civic leaders in Cameron raised the money to purchase the 20-acre site occupied by the present armory and gave it to the National Guard.

Cameron's Battery C, 649th AAA Battalion ,will use the new facilities. They will move from the present building which will be used for a vehicle storage area.

The armory will have a drill hall 93 by 59 feet and rooms for storage, supply, lockers, kitchen and battery offices.

H. H. Coffield Buys Two-County Pipeline

H. H. Coffield, Rockdale industrialist, has announced the purchase of the Magnolia pipeline serving the Luling and Branyan Fields of Caldwell and Bastrop Counties.

The Houston Post said this week the purchase will be effective July 1.

The system will be operated as Coffield Pipe Line Company, according to the report.

Coffield announced the pipeline will continue the same operational basis. About 60 miles of pipeline comprise the operation, the report said. Oil will be sold to major refiners.

Rev. Sherrod delivered the installation sermon.

Rev. and Mrs. James moved to Cameron three weeks ago to assume full-time pastorate in the Cameron church. He had been studying for a doctorate at the University of Texas, Austin, where he held an assistantship in logic and ethics at the University.

Deep Test Underway

SW Milam Well Hits 1,500

Milam County's deepest test in recent years was at 1,500 feet Wednesday as drilling continued at General Crude's Smackover well, 10 miles south of Rockdale.

It is scheduled to go to Smackover sand at 12,000 to 14,000 feet, reliable sources said.

Several years ago Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., Houston, drilled a 12,700-foot wildcat on their acreage three miles northwest of Milano. It was one of the deepest tests in county history up to the current General Crude test.

Houston Driller

Drilling contractor is Oil Production Maintenance, Inc., Houston. Lee Walker is trucking contractor, according to the Rockdale Reporter.

The well is on a 254-acre tract on the D. H. Van Vieghton survey on the Milam-Burleson County lines. The tract is owned by J. W. Garner, Preston Perry and the Kidd estate.

The well was spudded in Friday after delays due to recent rains in that area, sources said.

A plank road has been built to gain access to the site. A mile of board road was built to the site by a Houston contractor while three miles of county road were reworked.

Drilling began over the weekend after the derrick was erected last week.

First Test In Years

It will be the first test in the Smackover in that area, reports say, though Redbank Oil Co. 10 years ago put down a 6,000-foot producer about a mile from the present location in the Edwards sand.

The new wildcat is expected to test several deep formations, including the Petit, the Glen Rose and possibly the Cotton Valley.

H. H. Coffield, Rockdale, handled leasing of the 10,000 acre block General Crude has leased in the south Milam County area.

Jaycees Issue Deadline Date For Sign Contest

Jaycee President Bill Crockett this week made a final appeal for entries in the Cameron Sign slogan contest which is being conducted by the Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"A number of entries have come in," Crockett said, "and we hope that many more Cameron and Milam County residents will enter the contest by the July 1 deadline."

Slogans have been turned in by residents from Cameron and several parts of the county.

The winning slogan will be selected by a panel of judges outside the Jaycee Club after all entries are filed, Crockett continued.

The Cameron Lions Club board of directors will consider the project. Cameron Kiwanians also are considering a donation, according to President Bob Nelson.

Jaycees will furnish the manpower to install the "Welcome to Cameron" signs, Crockett said.

MILAM COUNTY'S

FARM SCENE

Cotton Insects Still Found In Milam Crop

By J. D. Moore
County Agent

Cotton insects continue to plague cotton farmers. Many farmers report the presence of boll weevils and flea hoppers even though they have followed the early season insect control program.

Insecticides recommended in the Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects, will control the insects if properly applied. Reoccurence by migration is another problem that is difficult to understand. Young cotton flea hoppers have no wings until they are nearly grown. Most cotton fields inspected have only mature flea hoppers. This indicates a migration situation. The guide recommends Dieldrin, Aldrin, Heptachlor, all mixed with DDT for late season control. The only reason for adding DDT is to control the boll worms.

Du eto the favorable crop conditions, we recommend that farmers poison their cotton as soon as fields dry then closely inspect the cotton fields 3 or 4 days later and add another application on the 5th day if insect damage is present.

Beef Cattle Short Course

The Beef Cattle Short Course is scheduled for August 11, 12 and 13, 1958. Final details of the program have not been worked out, but in general, there is planned a carcass contest, demonstrations on fertility testing of bulls, pregnancy checking of cows and discussions on how these are used.

Other discussions will include artificial insemination in beef cattle, diseases affecting reproductive performance of cattle, use of records in selecting breeding cattle, marketing feeder and stocker cattle in East Texas, export market for beef breeding cattle, contract feeding in beef production, a new method of supplemental feeding for range cattle and progress with systemic insecticides for parasite control.

Help Hens Beat The Heat

Over-heating of laying hens during the summer can cause such a loss of production that even the best performance the rest of the year will not offset.

Tests indicate that laying hens perform best between 45 and 85 degrees F. At about 65 degrees they consume about two pounds of water per pound of feed and at 95 degrees the ratio is over four to one.

When temperatures rise over a hundred degrees, wetting the birds slightly through either a fogger system or water sprinklers, is recommended. When this is done, it is important to have good air movement to evaporate the water. Other wise the resulting high humidity will only add to the birds' discomfort.

Side walls eight feet high with ventilation panels that open wide, especially along the floor line, provide maximum air movement through the house. Weeds and grass around the edge of the house should be kept mowed so they will not stop air movement in and out of the house. Grass coverage of the area adjacent to the house can be helpful by absorbing some of the sun's rays and preventing their reflection into the house.

The roof should be built with the ridge running east and west with a wide overhang so the floor of the house will be shaded. Too, a continuous ridge-row ventilator about a foot and a half wide will provide an outlet for the hot air bank that forms underneath the roof.

150 To Attend County 4-H Camp

By Robert W. Hoermann
Ass't. County Agent

Milam county's 4-H Clubs will hold their annual county 4-H Camp July 1st at Ledbetter Park in Cameron.

Approximately 150 4-H Club members, their parents and friends, will attend the camp. Activities for the day will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 8 p.m.

Now is the time for 4-H members with calves to trim their calves hoofs. Trimming the hoofs occasionally will help avoid sore feet, which often delay gains in feed lot cattle.

4-H Club boys interested in attending the District Camp at Brownwood, July 14, 15, 16, are asked to contact the county agents office as soon as possible.

Soil Moisture Good, Local Crops Assured

County agent J. D. Moore reported excellent surface and subsoil moisture following last weeks timely rain.

Corn and grain sorghum crops are pretty well assured due to the good rains and the rains will also assure additional hay cuttings from Johnson grass meadows, Moore said.

The cotton crop is in excellent condition with blooms appearing in older cotton although there is still insect damage reported.

Livestock conditions are good with surplus grass and water. Prices are good.

Moore said that a good crop of quality tomatoes are moving, but prices are low. Canteloupes will start moving this week.

Farmers are reminded that they have until September 30 to file for their Federal gasoline tax refund.

A three cents tax refund will be made on all farm used gasoline purchased between July 1, 1957 and June 30, 1958.

O. G. Tumlinson, president of the Milam County Farm Bureau, announced that farmers who have filed for this tax before would receive Federal refund forms through the mail. He added that there are extra blanks at the Farm Bureau for those who failed to receive one through the mail or who are filing for the first time this year.

This is the third year that the Federal government has allowed a tax refund on farm used gasoline.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Today's Text: I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. —Verse 28.

Help us to know, O God, that we are eternal and that our salvation is for this world, but also for that which is to come.

Cameron's Business - Industrial Review

Story Of Cameron Business Leadership

Serving Milam Co.

Schiller Motors Has Big Variety Of Auto Services

Schiller Motors, Milam County's largest Chrysler Corporation auto dealer, has a wide selection of services that compliment an up-to-date auto agency.

Located at the intersection US 77 - US 190 and SH 36, Schiller Motors features a one-stop service at the agency auto department and at Schiller's Humble Service Station.

The aggressive Dodge-Plymouth dealership is ably managed by Partners Milton J. Schiller and Jerry B. Schiller.

"Our one-step service includes a complete wash, lubrication and polish service plus minor repair or a major overhaul if the motorist's car needs it," Milton Schiller says.

Staff Of Sixteen

Schiller Motors employs a staff of 16 competent people to make Schiller Motors and Service Station truly a one-stop auto center.

Besides selling 1958 Plymouths and Dodge cars and trucks, Schillers are adding a wide selection of used cars to their sales department on a lot across from the agency on SH 36.

"We believe in giving Milam County motorists the complete automotive center -- one where he can find a new car or truck or buy an excellent used car. Then he can be sure that experts will care for his vehicle long after he purchases it," Schiller says.

Schiller's service department is under the active management of Joe K. Kovar, who has 28 years of all-round mechanical know how. He has built a reputation as probably one of the best mechanics in the county, Schiller points out.

Another highly skilled auto man, James Supple, manages the paint and body department. He takes great pride in his workmanship and knows the fine points of paint and body work. He has gained valuable experience on the assembly line of one of the nation's major auto builders.

Supple has had 42 years in auto paint and body work experience.

Top Name Brands

Name brands too are among the outstanding features of Schiller Motors and Service Station. The service station handles quality Humble petroleum products and the auto agency is distributor for U. S. Royal tires.

In addition, the service department provides a complete auto air conditioning service as well as a wide variety of repair services.

The Schillers founded their auto agency in 1946. In 1950 they constructed their agency and service station on SH 36 - US 77. It was one of the first major building projects in Cameron following World War II.

"We believe we have a wide variety of excellent automotive services and products that will make driving a pleasure for Cameron motorists. We invite your business, and we will do our utmost to serve you well," Schiller concludes.

Cammer's Cleaners Bring City 50 Years Of Top-Notch Service

Cammer's Dry Cleaners and Tailor Shop has 50 years of dry cleaning experience behind their assurance of A-1 cleaning and pressing for Cameron customers.

Owner Jack Cammer and Mrs. Cammer provide a top-notch dry cleaning service with a new odorless, lint-free cleaning system recently installed.

Cammer's services include a fast hat blocking service, summer moth-proof storage at an economical cost, tailoring of suits, jackets and slacks and all other services found in an up-to-the-minute cleaning and tailoring establishment.

And they offer S&H Green Stamps with every dry cleaning, pressing, tailoring or hat blocking job.

50 Years Old

Cammer's service started as Cammer's Tailor Shop 50 years ago at the same location of the present business, 206 W. First St. Cammer's brother, Ben, started the business in a frame building once used by a Cameron doctor, a Dr. Jones.

Cammer followed in the footsteps of brothers Ben, Jeff and John and has built the business to its present, modern facilities.

He proudly points out that Ben Cammer introduced the first pressing machine in Cameron. And he says that Cammer's Cleaners have been keeping up with modern developments i n the industry ever since.

Cammer points out the modern plant that is centrally located in the heart of downtown Cameron is convenient to people coming to Cameron to shop. But if they need quick pick-up and delivery service, he says, we provide it free.

"Altering too is one of our services," Cammer says.

The new cleaning building was built in 1946. It contains the equipment and spacious service area that customers like, Cammer says.

33 Years Experience

Jack Cammer has been in the cleaning bhsiness for 33 years and has been running Cammer's Cleaners since 1926.

"And we know with our long experience in the dry cleaning business that we can give service when you need it," he emphasizes.

Glass, The Florist Says It Best When You Say It With Flowers

When you say it with flowers in Cameron and Rosebud, Glass the Florist says it best.

After 27 years in the wholesale and retail business, there is little doubt about the statement above. In fact two generations of Glass, the Florists, make floral service and selection a pleasure and delight regardless of the occasion.

Co-owners Mr. and Mrs. Lester Glass and son, Donald Glass, present an array of flowers for that special occasion that makes a remembrance from Glass, the Florist something really special.

Donald Glass points out that potted plants, sprays, corsages, bouquets, cut flowers and any other floral requirement are available in a spectrum of selections.

Greenhouse Fresh

He emphasizes that flowers by Glass are greenhouse fresh to their customers. Glass, The Florist grows most of their flowers in their own local greenhouses.

Freshly picked, the flowers are beautifully arranged by the skilled floral decorators at Glass the Florist. And they are delivered in fast, efficient manner by one of five trucks working in Cameron and a truck in Rosebud, he points out.

"We consider the floral occasion in recommending types of flowers and their arrangement to our customers. We strive for the personal touch that flowers convey when they are given as a gift or special remembrance."

Glass's floral arrangements for funerals are done with dignity and grace befitting the need, Glass says. And equal care is devoted to flower and scenic arrangements for weddings and parties.

"Ask about our floral service for weddings," Glass recommends. "We assure you that you will receive the recommendations that 27 years of experience has proven will give a really beautiful wedding."

Wide Selection

Name the flower and Glass has it. Hydrangeas, mums, roses, gloxinias, carnations, glads, to name only a few are available most of the year or in season for Glass customers.

Glass, the Florist is also a member of Florist Telegraph Delivery Association, a world-wide group of outstanding florists that can send flowers to any point of the world by telegraph order.

"We try not to overlook any service that flowers properly grown, arranged and delivered should give," he continues. "There is something special about getting a gift of flowers and continuous attention by the florist makes receiving flowers an occasion to remember."

Welcome To Cameron . . .

The Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce has come up with an idea for welcoming motorists to Cameron that will mean a great deal to Cameron in years to come.

The group plans to erect three major signs at main highway entrances into Cameron. Constructed of strong poles and planking, the 6 by 12 foot signs would proclaim a "Welcome To Cameron" with a slogan boosting Cameron's best attributes underneath.

There is little doubt that a large welcome to motorists entering the city will attract their attention and spread the friendly atmosphere that prevails throughout Milam County's seat.

Three civic clubs have been asked for donations for the materials. Members of the Junior Chamber will erect the signs at good sites near the north, east and west Cameron city limits.

Like a friendly person who lets people know that he is friendly, Cameron must tell people that we appreciate their presence in the city. It cannot help but have an effect on whether they stop to eat here, get some gas, stay overnight and tour the downtown and residential sections.

But more important, they will go from Cameron with the idea that Cameron is a friendly city with thousands of friendly people who sincerely wish to see them return.

Someone said recently that cities throughout the nation are posting signs of welcome, signs boasting a little bit about the top attributes of their communities. Cameron too has much to tell the world.

We have some beautiful examples of Southern architecture, probably more trees than any city our size in Central Texas, a proud history dating back 112 years in the formative days of a Texas republic.

These are but a few of Cameron's attractions. Let's invite fellow Texans into Cameron with these "Welcome Signs." They will want to come back.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Sage Wants To Be Showered With Gifts To See If They Influence Him

Dear editar:

Me and some of my neighbors were sitting around out here yesterday afternoon discussing the grave matter of gifts and whether or not a man can accept em without obliging himself to return the favor.

One of my neighbors said it was impossible for a man in public office to accept a gift without developing a warm spot for the man who did the giving, and another said it was, while a third said it might be possible, but he wasn't sure he wanted to deal with a man who could accept a presnet from you and still be just as cold toward you as he was before. "Who wants even a dog that won't wag his tail when you throw him a bone?" he wanted to know.

Well now, I'll tell you. As I understand it, the problem of gifts to public officials has been bothering public servants ever since somebody sent George Washington a can of powder for his wig, and I have decided it's time to put the thing to a test. It's time to put a man's character against a batch of gifts, and if nobody else wants the job, I'll take it on. I don't mean there aren't a lot of public officials who don't want the job, or who haven't already got it, but I mean somebody who wants to take on the job out in public. Accepting a gift that doesn't come to light unless a Congressional investigating committee stumbles on it is one thing, but what I'm talking about is accepting it in broad daylight.

Now right off, I'd like to say that I don't have much use for a vicuna coat, don't believe it'd be practical to plow in, and a $2400 rug would be wasted in my house until I get the roof fixed, and while I intend to get it fixed, I haven't gotten around to it yet and don't know when I will, as I figure that's my business. It's a man's job to provide a roof for his family, all right, but there's nothing in the contract that says it has to be leak-proof.

However, I could use a few things, like a new tractor, a set of spark plugs, two new tires, some new fences — provided they're installed, just as soon have an oriental rug as a bunch of wire and posts I have to put up myself — and a few sides of bacon, a television set, and any number of other things, and if my friends want to shower any of these on me, I will accept them and keep a close check on my reactions to see if a man can accept gifts without being influenced one way or the other.

Before I start though I'd like to point out that it has been my observation that when people start sending gifts to Washington, everybody else howls in protest, but when Washington starts sending gifts to the people, let's change the subject.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Capitol Report

State Aid To Fight Grasshopper Plague

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — First drought, then floods and now grasshoppers have come to plague disaster-weary Texas farmers.

After touring the affected area in the Panhandle, Gov. Price Daniel called it the worst grasshopper infestation in 20 years. Unless checked, he said, the 'hoppers could destroy much of the crops and pasturage in 26 counties.

County, state and federal agencies worked with landowners to get crews to spray hatching grounds along roadways. State Agriculture Department, Highway Department, National Guard and Defense and Disaster Relief Office are cooperating in the battle. Aim is to try to kill the insects before they leave the hatching grounds and start chewing their way into crops for which farmers had high hopes this year.

Another threat is fund shortage. At a cost of some $3,000 a day for spraying crews, Texas Agriculture Department's emergency funds dwindled fast.

Governor Daniel expressed hope that some federal assistance might be obtained.

Cox Appeal Denied

Ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe has lost another round in his fight against a two-year prison sentence.

Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 2-1 decision, upheld the trial court conviction on charges of consenting to accept a bribe. Cox's attorneys have one more recourse left - filing a motion for a re-hearing. Since the appeals court recesses June 28, this could not be considered until it reconvenes next October.

Cox's troubles rocked the state last Spring, during the 1957 legislative session. They began when Howard Harmon of San Antonio, onetime head of the Texas Naturopaths, made public a tape recording of a hotel room conversation with Cox. Harmon and state's attorneys contended that the conversation reflected an effort by Cox to shake down Harmon in return for killing an anti-naturopath bill which Cox had introduced in the legislature.

Judge's Opponent Out

One election contest has already been settled, some six weeks before Election Day.

Texas Supreme Court ruled Dist. Judge Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls not eligible to run for the Court of Criminal Appeals against Judge K. K. Woodley. Reason: Judge Purcell has had only nine years experience as a lawyer and judge.

An 1891 amendment to the Constitution requires that Criminal Appeals Court judges have the same qualifications as Supreme Court judges. At that time the requirement for the high court was seven years experience. In 1945 the Constitution was amended to require 10 years experience for Supreme Court judges.

Despite the time lapse, the effect of the two amendments is to require 10 years experience for Criminal Appeals judges, according to the ruling in the Woodley-Purcell case.

Result is that Woodley will be unopposed in the primary and win automatic renomination for another six-year etrm.

Line-Jumping Threat

Another Supreme Court ruling on an election dispute poses an Election Day dilemma for Dallas voters.

It held that Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor official and self-styled "Stevenson Republican," is entitled to oppose Cong. Bruce Alger on the GOP primary ballot.

Cantrell's candidacy is interpreted as a move to inconvenience Dallas conservative voters. Election results for 1956 indicate a good percentage of "Big D' voters threw their strength behind conservative Democrats at precinct conventions and primaries, but supported Republican nominees for national offices in the general election. Presumably, unless conservatives are on hand to vote, Cantrell's friends might scratch GOP-favorite Alger in his own primary.

But it's a two-edged sword that applies equally to Dallas liberals. If they go to the Republican primary to help Cantrell, they can't vote for liberal Democratic contenders for state office nor fight conservatives for Democratic precinct control.

Like A Jury?

Defending the State Board of Health's closed door meetings, Comm. Henry H. Holle said:

"The Board is like a jury. You get the verdict, but you can't get in on their comments."

State Health Board has authority to allocate federal funds under the Hill-Burton Act to match local funds for hospital building. Its policy has been to announce names of hospitals approved to receive funds, but not those rejected or why.

Newsmen had been openly critical of the Board for barring the press from its meetings. Holle said minutes of Board meetings were available to the public after formal approval at the next meeting -- three months later.

Buckeye is the popular name for a species of chestnut abundant in Ohio.

It is estimated that the U. S. population annually consumes 12 pounds of coffee per capita.

YOUNG IDEAS from Polly Ponds
Q: "I have shadows under my eyes, and my mouth and chin are too small. What can I do to correct these defects?"
A: First, stop calling them defects. A perfectly proportioned face is extremely rare, yet millions of women are beautiful.
You can easily conceal the shadows under your eyes with a tinted liquid make-up one shade lighter than your regular complexion cover.
The make-up you usually wear will have either rose or gold undertones, so make sure the lighter tint belongs in the same family.
A tiny mouth will look larger if you apply lipstick slightly below your lower lipline. For better control, try using a brush. Once mastered, it will give you a clean, natural-looking outline - a "must" when you want to change the shape of your mouth, without making the change seem obvious.
A touch of rouge on the tip of your chin will bring it more sharply into focus. All you need is the faintest hint of pink to strengthen the look of your jawline.

Freedom of the Press, Here and Now

Everywhere that a tyrant's heel has ground most brutally, there has sprung up an "underground" movement. And its heart always is a printing press. For the urge that dwells deep in a freedom-loving people to know the truth is hard to kill. In fact it cannot be killed — not even by the best-organized despotism in history.

The many stories of underground presses that have come down through the ages of trial and error by many dictators is an inspiration to the men and women of America's press.

We know that the truth can actually be printed and circulated under the very heel of a tyrant's boot. But a far better way of keeping people informed is through their own free press which operates not in some dark cellar, but on main street, right next door to the grocer, the postoffice, the drug store. * * To preserve that freedom is the first obligation of the American people and the American Press. It is our only hope of maintaining our other cherished freedoms.

Time To Dust Camera It's Catfishing Time

By Vern Sanford

It's catfishing time in Texas!

The real meat fishermen now are showing up to have their pictures made with full-grown catfish. I've seen several of them taken from trot lines and throw lines, the past week, on Lake Travis.

Catfish can be taken any time of the year. However, July and August seem to be the months when most of the big ones are hooked.

Perhaps the principal reason is that other fish are less likely to be caught during the two hot summer months and fishermen just naturally turn to the catfish.

Some bass and crappie are caught, but generally they seem to have their tummies full and seek out some good cool spot to spend the day. I don't mean that many are not caught. However, the number decreases as the temperature rises. Whether it is the fault of the fish or the fisherman I wouldn't say. But I do know that there are fishermen who catch them any time of the year, hot or cold.

Generally speaking catfishing isn't as much mork as bass fishing. Catfish can be caught in most any manner. Frequently one will hit on a plug. They'll take minnows, cut bait, dough bait, even Ivory soap.

They'll come to a baited hole and will be enticed by almost any kind of scent bait. A sack of fermented shorts or corn chops, or a gunny sack filled with uncooked bones dropped into the water alongside an old tree usually is a good magnet to attract catfish.

Many pole fishermen come up with some dandies by baiting a hole and then sitting quietly in their boats and waiting for the catfish to move in.

However, the old time favorite way of taking catfish is by trot line. Usually such a line is extended between two points, perhaps a couple hundred feet apart, down a creek or across one, or across a channel where catfish are likely to be foraging.

The line can be anchored to a stake, tree, stump or weighted down with glass bottles for buoys.

Most often one end of the line is tied to something solid. The other end has a heavy weight, with a guy line from the weight to a tightly closed bottle which floats on top of the water to designate the end of the line or the location. They also help keep the line off the bottom.

Some catfishermen like for their lines to be on the bottom; others like to have their lines barely under the water. In any event when they are in the open they should be deep enough that they won't be cut apart by outboards moving over the area. It's a good way for you to lose a line, and also for an outboard to get its prop badly tangled.

Hooks can vary in size. Most fishermen usually use a 5-0 to 7-0 Eagle Claw. A great deal will depend on the area in which you are fishing. If the fish are small, then a smaller hook is best. Some fishermen use 3-0 but these are very light for large fish.

The hooks are attached to the trot line via a stageon with a short line of about 50 pound test. This stageon or drop should be from a foot to 18 inches long. It can be tied directly to the trot line, or there are fasteners available which make the operation a little easier.

Experienced trot line fishermen have a good reel for holding their lines. They can play these out from the boat very easily without getting tangled. Sometimes if the wind is a little high or the water swift, a line has to be put into the water hurriedly before the boat loses position.

Although many trot lines are set out and run by one man, it really is a two-man job. A friend of ours boated a husky yellow cat (34 inches long) the other morning.....single handed. And he almost lost it. Although the hook was caught well, the fight to land him was so hard and so long that when the cat was pulled over the side of the boat it fell off the hook. Fortunately for my friend the fish stayed in the boat.

When running a trot line it is best to have everything possible cleaned out of your boat. Everything except your life preservers and a tub in the center of the boat. The catfish can then be dumped into this tub. Some fishermen are now using plastic garbage containers for this purpose.

Best advice we can possibly give is that you be careful. There are two distinct hazards in catfishing. One is that in playing out your trot line and baiting it in a hurry you can easily get a hook caught in your hand. There is considerable tension on a trot line. If you are not careful when you release it after baiting or removing a fish, it will jerk a hook into your thumb.

Brother, you've had it when this happens. If the hook goes in over the barb, then cut the hook off the line immediately. If you can work the barb through the flesh with pliers, cutting off the shank, that's fine. The better plan, however is to get to the family doc as quickly as you can. He can remove the hook and give you an anti-tet shot -- which is a safeguard. He'll also flatten out your wallet a little, which will teach you to be more careful next time.

Disabled Must File Monday For Social Security

Disabled people who have not been able to work for some time because of their disability have until June 30, 1958, to apply for full protection of their social security rights, Maurice M. Chastain, district manager of the Temple social security office said today.

Mr. Chastain pointed out that if disabled people wait until after June 30, they run the risk of having their social security benefits cut down or of having their right to any benefits run out out altogether. The original deadline was June 30, 1957, but this was extended by Congress to June 30, 1958, in a final effort to protect workers who failed to file an application before the deadline.

Mr. Chastain explained that disabled people, besides being so disabled that they are not expected to be able to do any kind of substantial work for a long and indefinite period, must have worked under social security at least five out of the ten years before their disability began and must have worked at least one and one-half years out of the three years just before the disability began in order to qualify.

Mr. Chastain urged that any disabled person who thinks he might be entitled to the disability protection of the social security law contact his office personally or by mail or phone before June 30, 1958. The office in Temple is located in Room 415, First National Bank Building. The phone number is Prospect 8-1002.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM
WILLIAM BARRET TRAVIS
"I Call on You in the Name of Liberty . ."

To the People of Texas . .
I am besieged by a thousand or more of the Mexicans under Santa Anna — I have sustained a continual bombardment and cannonade for 24 hours and have not lost a man. The enemy has demanded a surrender at discretion, otherwise, the garrison are to be put to the sword — I have answered the demand with a cannon shot and our flag still waves proudly from the walls — I shall never surrender or retreat. Then, I call on you in the name of Liberty, of patriotism and everything dear to the American character, to come to our aid . . If this call is neglected, I am determined to sustain myself as long as possible and die like a soldier who never forgets what is due to his own honor and that of his country — Victory or Death.

Lt. Col. Comdt.

What Texan doesn't "remember the Alamo"? William Barret Travis — the school teacher and lawyer from Alabama, pioneer and champion of liberty for Texas — died with his men, fighting, on March 6, 1836.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland . . "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Tom Murray's Column

ROY HARRIS can not whip a ready Floyd Patterson.

Dogmatic? It is an appraisal haunting even the staunchest supporters of the Cut and Shoot bombers.

The smarts say even Lou Viscusi, Roy's only manager outside Father Henry Harris, holds no illusions along those lines.

But Cousin D'Amato's tiger might as well prepare for his toughest brawl since Rocky Marciano gave him the heavyweight championship.

Floyd packs the guns of a legitimate heavyweight ruler but to date has fought no one as tough and resolute as the colorful Montgomery County school teacher.

Aging Archie Moore, Punch Drunk Hurrican Jackson and the pea-green Pete Rademacher were Patterson set ups.

None of Henry Harris' clan can be classed so.

"Why they have a sister," exclaimed a Conroe school teacher, "who could whip most of our boys if she weren't the lady she is."

Even so, Roy should reap a fantastic payday with the return-bout clause. Not since the glory days of the daffy Dean brothers and the St. Louis Cardinal Gashouse Gang, has a major sport come up with a figure as authentically colorful.

The Harrises, with their alligator pit, screenless abode, dogs on the porch and genuine rural way of life, have excited a nation full of folks hungry for authentic native color.
